THE DAILY HERALD.

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 17, 1886.

THE SAMOAN CRAZE.

It appears that the purpose of the King and Cabinet to send a diplomatic agent—or, more correctly, a political meddler—to Samoa is to be persisted in. At least a statement that Hon. John E. Bush was to be appointed as commissioner of His Majesty to that country stands uncontradicted, after having been published in several papers some days ago. If the Hawaiian Government is still possessed of the silly purpose, its members should be recommended to shut themselves up for a week with President Cleveland's reference to Samoan affairs in his message to Congress. Three Powers are therein mentioned as having all treaty rights in Samoa, being the United States, England and Germany. That questions of complicated and delicate nature are pending between those Powers is obvious from the tone of solicitude characterizing President Cleveland's words, with his anxious hope expressed for a harmonious understanding to issue from negotiations. Hawaii is not mentioned at all. If it was in such a connection, Mr. Cleveland would be hooted off his exalted chair in a week. None of the Powers named can require Hawaii's advice, nor will they jointly or severally admit any attempt on this Kingdom's part to further divide foreign rights or responsibilities in Samoa. Perhaps after all the present international difficulties in that quarter are bridged over, Hawaii might send a commissioner to arrange if possible for trading privileges on the group for this country. At the present juncture, however, a Hawaiian diplomatist appearing in Samoa would be only comparable to a Royal School boy constituting himself an assignee in the bankrupt estate of Lam Chock, in conjunction with Mr. Parke and Mr. Lam Chong. If the taxpayers have any grit or mutual affinity among them, they should raise a protest that would be heard against wasting their money on the excursion projected for Mr. Bush.

Everybody says the imported Candies at the Elite are yum-yum. Go and try some!

Miss Tuck, at Miss Barry's, Punchbowl street, has received by last steamer a large assortment of Stamping Patterns for fancy work.

HOLIDAY NOVELTIES.

AT C. J. FISHEL'S.

One would have thought that Mr. Fisher's store, corner of Fort and Hotel streets, would not contain much more goods since the unpacking from the last previous steamer. Yet the Australia has brought an endless variety of some of the freshest and prettiest fancy articles for the holidays. Wall ornaments in flower baskets, bannerettes, plush mirrors and pockets; gentlemen's shaving boxes, manicure sets and toilet cases; lunch baskets, shell purses; mats to no end of new designs, including ribbon scene, very pretty—and then our reporter taking a rapid survey at dusk only began to see the beautiful things. A large window will, however, be devoted to their exhibition, and probably by Saturday the whole town will have an opportunity of seeing and buying.

AT THE ELITE PARLORS.

Mr. Hart, proprietor of the Elite ice cream parlors, evidently believes that there is a great deal in the way good things are presented. Not satisfied with importing the most inviting shapes and attractive colors of candies, he has obtained by the Australia a lot of funny bon-bon boxes, that must give the youngsters as much joy as the sweets to be conveyed in them. These boxes take the shape of a fish, a piece of cheese, a bag of apples, a bottle of champagne, an orange, a bun, roll or sausage, with a sliding cover or spring trap by which the candy is reached. Mr. Hart calls attention in a spread advertisement in to-day's HERALD to these things, as well as to the ice creams and cake he is prepared to supply in unlimited quantity for the festive season.

HOLLISTER & CO.

Messrs. Hollister & Co., druggists and dealers in toilet and fancy articles, etc., make their bow to the readers of the HERALD to-day, inviting them and their friends to see the fine line of gift goods at their store. Their list is given in general terms, but their door is wide open day and evening, at the latter time the interior of the store being brilliantly lighted, so that everybody has an opportunity to call, inspect and make a selection. They are going to have something new for all the year round shortly, which will be announced in due time.
